

Company overview

Our mission

"Foster growth in the Energy, Water and Environment industry sectors, bringing the skills and knowledge of our high calibre consultants to deliver projects in France and all around the world"

ENERJIA is a young company specialised in providing advice and services for the Energy, Water and Environment industries, facing strong growth all around the world and being the major challenges of this century.

The steep increase of the number of large projects in these areas, the ever increasing contribution of R&D, engineering, project management, and the shortage of expert specialists mobile worldwide are key challenges for the large industrial players.

ENERJIA fulfils their needs for mobility and outsourcing of senior staff and high potential engineers, to rapidly mobilise international project teams, with the capability to operate all around the world.

ENERJIA fulfils their needs for mobility and outsourcing of senior staff and high potential engineers, to rapidly mobilise international project teams, with the capability to operate all around the world.

ENERJIA consultants are specialists and senior staff mobile worldwide, experienced in the industries of oil & gas, chemicals, nuclear energy, renewable energies, water and environment.